About the instructor:

Jennifer Clinehens is a multi-instrumentalist, music entrepreneur, and music educator who has been teaching and performing professionally for a decade. She currently teaches Suzuki violin through Book 1 and traditional violin/viola lessons at the Academy of Music in Norfolk and maintains a private studio in Ghent. Ms. Clinehens is also a rehearsal assistant with the Bay Youth String Orchestra.

At the age of 15, she began her studies in classical performance at the University of North Carolina School of the Arts, continuing as a student at the Berklee College of Music, then graduating from the University of Virginia (BA Music 2008). Ms. Clinehens conducted one year of graduate-level string performance and pedagogy studies at Belmont University in Nashville, TN.

An orchestral, studio, and tour musician, Ms. Clinehens has performed all over the country, including cities such as Boston, Washington D.C., New York, and Nashville.

Jennifer currently holds a Virginia PreK-12 Instrumental Music and Virginia PreK-12 Vocal Music teaching license and completed Suzuki violin Book 1 teacher training with Stevie Sandven at the Ithaca College Suzuki Teacher Training Institute. Her Suzuki training is ongoing.

Ms. Clinehens is the owner of Virginia Event Music, a music booking agency, and Clinehens Publishing, a music publishing company. She is a member of the Suzuki Association of the Americas, STAHR (Suzuki Teacher's Association of Hampton Roads), ASCAP, and the American Federation of Musicians. Ms. Clinehens also is a freelance music journalist and comedy writer.
